It's Your Money
by Todd Brisbois

AFTER A DISASTER, AFFECTED TAXPAYERS MAY QUALIFY FOR TAX RELIEF

Tax relief is available for people living in areas that are declared disasters by the Federal Emergency Management Agency. To find out whether an area qualifies for federal disaster relief, taxpayers should check DisasterAssistance.gov.

Affected taxpayers have more time to file and pay
If taxpayers live at an address in an area that qualifies for IRS disaster tax relief, they automatically get extra time from the IRS to file returns and pay taxes.

Casualty loss tax deduction
If people have damaged or lost property due to a federally declared disaster, they may qualify to claim a casualty loss deduction and get a larger refund. They can claim this on their current or prior-year tax return.

Rebuild lost records with a tax return transcript
If people have lost their tax records, they can request a tax return transcript and a copy of their tax return from the IRS.

Taxpayers can get tax return transcripts online or request mail delivery with Get Transcript. Taxpayers can also file Form 4506-T, Request for Transcript of Tax Return.

To get a copy of a tax return, taxpayers can file Form 4506, Request for Copy of Tax Return. The IRS waives the fees and expedites these requests for people who need to apply for disaster-related benefits or file amended returns to claim disaster-related losses. To speed up the process, taxpayers who file Forms 4506-T or 4506 should write on the form that the request is disaster related, including the type of disaster and the state where it occurred.

Season 3 Episode 6 — The Return — Mohaned Said! (and more!)

Mohaned Said is back! The last time we saw the senior lineman was back in June when he was boarding a plane to basic training. Said has just now returned to school and to the Wildcats after graduating from basic, and the aspiring combat medic sat down to talk about his experiences.

In the episode we also learn about cheerleader Mary Almas, and how the senior has not let epilepsy stop her from pursuing her passion of dance or her newfound love of being on the cheer team. Mary's older brother, Wilmington High football alum Braedon, also joined us to talk about his sister.

School Committee meeting — Sept. 25, 2024

In this Wilmington School Committee meeting, the focus is on school safety and security updates, along with other important district matters. The presentation highlights the district's partnership with local police, fire departments, and public buildings to ensure student safety. Key topics include the ongoing implementation of the ALICE emergency response protocol, staff and student safety training, and school door safety improvements. Community concerns about school door safety and compliance with updated safety codes are also addressed.

Visit Grand Teton National Park in Wyoming

By PAIGE IMPINK
News Correspondent

The Teton Mountains in Wyoming are one of the most iconic and breathtaking mountain ranges in the country. Soaring over 12,000 feet, the Tetons, as they are called, are located in Grand Teton National Park. The tallest peak in the range, Grand Teton, is measured at 13,770 feet (by comparison, Mount Washington in New Hampshire stands at 6,288 feet; the tallest peak in the Northeast).

Located between Jackson, Wyoming to the south, and Yellowstone National Park to the north, visitors often couple a trip to Grand Teton with Yellowstone. The valley below the peaks is called Jackson Hole, an area initially settled for farming.

Grand Teton National Park was not officially designated until 1929, with areas of the valley further protected from development in the 1950s. The view of the mountains is spectacular, and if you fly into Jackson, you'll land at the only airport located within a national park. There are no jetways, only stairs to the tarmac. A massive arch of elk antlers welcomes you to Jackson.

The Teton range is 40 miles long and consists of 84 peaks. A result of geological uplift, the jagged gneiss and granite stone was carved by glacial ice. The mountains are estimated to be over 2.7 billion years old and there are still glaciers on Middle Teton that visitors can see from the road.

Grand Teton is known for its "famous four" most photographed destinations, including the views from Oxbow Bend, Schwabacher Landing, Snake River Overlook, and Mormon Row. The park road is laid out in one giant loop, with the Inner and Outer loops offering different but equally spectacular vistas.

The park is small and can be driven in about an hour, though you'll want to stop and inhale the air and the views.

Through the Homestead Act of 1862, people from across the country were encouraged to claim a piece of the new frontier. Around the same time, Mormons — members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints — were working their way West and seeking a place to settle.

The area next to the Gros Ventre river eventually became a self-contained Mormon community. Over time, the properties have been acquired and are now managed by Grand Teton National Park to preserve the history of these early settlements. The area is now called Mormon Row.

Several homesteads and barns are still standing, a testament to the early settlers' hard work and adept building skills.

The valley is also known for exceptional wildlife viewing, including moose, elk and bald eagles. Many contend that the animals are easier to spot in Grand Teton than Yellowstone. Like Yellowstone, though, Grand Teton does have bears, and bear safety is an imperative when visiting. Bear spray is a must for any hiking.

Trees add to the gorgeous views, including spruce, pine, and aspen. And the fields of sagebrush lend a dusty green hue that compliments the grayish blue mountains. Even in summer, there is still white snow near the peaks; one can imagine the magical experience once winter snows have draped the range.

An aerial tram ride is a popular way to view the Tetons, the valley, and the greater Yellowstone ecosystem, from May to September, though we didn't have time this trip.

However, thanks to our friends' recommendation, we did add String Lake to our plans. The brief stop did not disappoint. A quick dip in the clear lake was delightful after our plane ride, and the water sparkled with the mountains as a backdrop.

We also visited the Craig Thomas Discovery Center, an impressive building that has numerous interpretive displays and films about the park. It's a good place to stop for the restroom, fill your water bottle, and absorb the views.

So, when your travel plans take you out West, be sure to add Grand Teton National Park to your list.

Help support bat conservation during Bat Appreciation Month

By HEATHER BURNS
News Correspondent

When it comes to the month of October, all thoughts naturally go to the dark and stormy nights of the Halloween season.

When it comes to thinking about bats in the month of October, typically we think of haunted houses encircled by a flying colony of angry bats.

Although this scenario is fitting for a Halloween horror tale, it depicts an inaccurate description about the true bat population.

So, it seems only appropriate that October is not only a time for haunted houses, but it is also Bat Appreciation Month.

Hollywood has not been friendly to the bat population, creating a false narrative about the bat that includes aggressive behavior, blood sucking, and of course, the alter ego of the vampire.

Because of the false Hollywood hype, bats are often misunderstood.

Most do not realize that these mammals play a pivotal role in our ecosystem and are vital to our environment.

Bats are primarily predators of night-flying insects, including many disease carrying insects that can be harmful to humans.

Bats can inject up to 125 percent of their own body weight in insects in a single night, providing cost-free, organic, pesticide-free, and effective pest control.

Bats also eat crop-damaging pests, increasing crop yield and creating safer, pesticide-free foods for consumers.

The pest consumption of bats also helps make our environment safer by reducing the amount of chemicals released in the air and water.

According to the Massachusetts Wildlife Service, Massachusetts is the home of nine species of bats, five of which are considered endangered.

There are several threats that directly decrease the world's bat population. These include loss of habitat, disease, climate change, and the use of pesticides which reduces the bats food source.

National Park Service data states that 52 percent of the 145 species of bats found in North America are headed for severe population declines over the next 15 years unless serious conservation actions are taken now.

In celebration of Bat Appreciation Month, there are several actions you can take to support bat conservation.

Educate yourself and others to help dispel fears about bats.

Also, be aware of any known bat colonies in your area (a colony consists of a group of 10 or more bats).

The Massachusetts Wildlife Service asks citizens to report any known bat colonies to their office, as this information is useful to help conserve endangered populations.

If it is necessary to exclude bats from your home, be sure to use methods, or hire professionals that comply with the Massachusetts Wildlife Service Home Owner's Guide to Bats.

The best way to support bat conservation is to create an artificial roost or bat house.

Having a bat house on or near your property can prevent bats from moving into the eaves of your house and will provide a safe space for bats to raise their young.

Female bats only have one pup per year, so the population is very slow to grow.

This October, forget about all the things Halloween has taught you about bats, and spend some time supporting these marvelous and helpful creatures of the night.

For more information on safely removing bats from your home or creating a safe bat house, visit www.mass.gov/service-details/bats-in-the-home.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice of Rights of Affected Third Parties

The following Person has filed an application pursuant to M.G.L. c. 21E, s. 3A(j)(3) and 940 CMR 23.00, to enter into a Brownfields Covenant Not to Sue Agreement on October 2, 2024, for the Site listed below. Third parties who may have claims with regard to this Site are hereby notified that: 1) the execution of the requested Agreement may affect such claims, and 2) third parties whose rights will be affected may seek to join the Agreement.

Parties who wish to do so must make such request to the Attorney General in writing and must either deliver such request to: Brownfields Unit, Environmental Protection Division, Office of the Attorney General, One Ashburton Place, Boston, MA 02108. The request must be delivered by Thursday, November 18, 2024, or mail such request to the same address by first-class mail postmarked by that date.

Name of Applicant: Wilmington Woburn Industrial, LLC (WWI)

Description of the Site: The property located at 51 Eames Street (aka 109 Eames), Wilmington, MA is a 48.58-acre parcel of land currently owned by Olin Corporation and identified by the Town of Wilmington Assessor with Parcel ID# 37-10. The property is located south of Eames Street, approximately 1,000 feet east of the intersection of Eames Street and Main Street. The southern property boundary coincides with the Wilmington/Woburn town line. The property is bounded to the east by an MBTA rail line and to the west by an unused rail spur. The property is a portion of the Olin Chemical Superfund Site (the Site or the OCSS), which was listed on the National Priorities List (NPL) by the US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) on April 19, 2006. The property was the location of chemical manufacturing operations from 1953 to 1986 and included operations in several buildings on the property. Olin closed the facility in 1986 and no manufacturing has occurred since that time. Five vacant buildings remain on the property totaling 46,516 +/- square feet per the Wilmington Assessor's Database. A groundwater treatment facility known as "Plant B" is operated by Olin at the site.

Description of the Release(s) at issue: The Site has been a Priority site under the Massachusetts Contingency Plan (MCP) since 1993 (MassDEP - RTN 3-000471), and a Tier I site since 1994. As noted above, the Site was listed on the NPL April 19, 2006, and was listed by the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (MassDEP) as Adequately Regulated under the MCP on April 18, 2006. As documented in the reports of the investigations performed to date, OCSS has been subdivided into three Operable Units ("OUs"): OU1 is defined as soil and sediment on the property, including the former facility area, the established conservation area, the on-property ditch system, the Calcium Sulfate Landfill, and the Slurry Wall Containment Area.

- OU1 has been evaluated for impacts to soil, surface water, sediment, and potential vapor intrusions into OU1 buildings.
- OU2 is defined as off-property surface water and sediment areas, including the off-property East Ditch, a small portion of the South Ditch, the off-property West Ditch, portions of the Maple Meadow Brook Wetland, and North Pond. Access to portions of OU2 is obtained through the property.
- OU3 is defined as all on- and off-property groundwater areas including the Maple Meadow Brook Aquifer, groundwater beneath the property, and groundwater located south and east of the property. Soils located within the water table are evaluated under OU3.

All known releases of oil and/or hazardous materials associated with the property occurred during early operations of the manufacturing facility. The areas associated with historical releases are as follows, and are located within OU1, the soil and sediment on the property:

- Former Lake Poly, East and West Pits and the three Acid Pits
- Leaks from Lined Lagoons I and II and Emergency Lagoon
- Liquid Waste Disposal Practices
- Manufacturing and Wastewater Treatment
- Plant B Production Area and Plant B Tank Farm
- Transformers
- Former Buried Debris Area
- Former Drum Areas
- Calcium Sulfate Landfill
- Liquid Waste Disposal into East, West and On-property South Ditch Streams.
- Fuel Oil Underground Storage Tanks

Subsurface Utilities/Septic Systems Inorganic salts and other organic compounds were released to these areas and formed a Dense Aqueous Phase Liquid (DAPL). The DAPL is slightly heavier than fresh water and settled gravimetrically into three distinct pools located in bedrock depressions described as the On-Site DAPL Pool, the Off-property DAPL pool, and the Main Street DAPL Pool. The DAPL contains chromium, dissolved solids, ammonia, chloride, magnesium, sodium, sulfate, and has an acidic pH. The 2018 Draft Remedial Investigation Report for OU3 documents the nature and extent of groundwater impacts associated with DAPL and diffuse layer material. EPA published a Record of Decision (ROD) for the Site in March 2021 selecting the Final Remedies for OU1 and OU2 and an Interim Remedy for OU3. A Consent Decree (CD) was entered in federal court on September 28, 2023, between the United States (on behalf of EPA), the Commonwealth of Massachusetts (on behalf of MassDEP) and four Settling Defendants, American Bitrite, Inc., NOR-AM Agro LLC, Olin Corporation, and Stepan Company (Settling Defendants). The Settling Defendants will implement the remedies required by the Consent Decree under the supervision of EPA.

Assessment and remediation activities are ongoing and are being conducted by the Settling Defendants in accordance with the Consent Decree and under the supervision of the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and in accordance with the MCP. Details of ongoing assessment and remediation may be found by visiting the EPA website at www.epa.gov/superfund/olin.

Summary of the terms of the application: WWI has proposed a redevelopment of the property as a state-of-the-art industrial warehouse facility to be built in two phases. Phase 1 of the project will be developed over a 13.16-acre eligible portion of the property and is anticipated to be a 195,400 square foot industrial building with associated parking, loading, office, and storage uses. A future Phase 2 of the project that would serve as a permanent engineered cap over the containment area and include a 135,000 square foot addition to the Phase 1 structure, also with associated parking, loading, office, and storage uses. Phase 2 can be developed only after approval by EPA. The proposed uses in both phases of the project are allowed by the Town of Wilmington Zoning Bylaw.

WWI is seeking liability relief from any claims related to the presence of oil or hazardous materials in soil, sediments, or surface water on the property (OU1) and soil, sediments, or surface water off of the property (OU2). At the time EPA issues a Final ROD for OU3 (on and off-property groundwater), WWI intends to submit a revised application seeking liability relief for OU3.

The property is a part of the Olin Chemical Superfund Site, which is also subject to the MCP. By acquiring the property, WWI would meet the definition of a "potentially responsible party" under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act, 42 USC § 9600 et seq. (CERCLA), and would meet the definition of a "responsible party," under 21E and the MCP. However, it is clear that WWI did not cause the current conditions at the property or the Site. Furthermore, the responsible parties have been identified and have assumed responsibility to complete the investigation and remediation of the Site, including the property, under both CERCLA and the MCP. To provide CERCLA liability protection to WWI, WWI has entered into a Prospective Purchaser Agreement (PPA) with EPA. However, the PPA will not provide liability protections for claims under the MCP. In addition, the liability protections provided by statute will not be available until the Settling Defendants complete the work required by the CD and the ROD, i.e., the "Permanent Solution" is achieved. This is a complex site and it could be years until a Permanent Solution is achieved. WWI is seeking liability protection for that time it will take the responsible parties to complete the remediation. Copies of the Applicant's application may be obtained by contacting: William Buckley, Project Director, Wilmington Woburn Industrial, LLC, (978) 265-8550, wbuckley@gfipartners.com

Eco Auto launches Battery 4 Life: New England's first lifetime EV battery warranty

BOSTON — Eco Auto, a leader in electric vehicle sales and sustainability solutions, proudly announces the launch of Battery 4 Life, the first lifetime EV battery warranty of its kind in the New England area. This groundbreaking warranty program provides electric and hybrid vehicle owners with long-term protection, covering up to $10,000 in battery replacement costs, giving them peace of mind for as long as they own their vehicle.

With the growing popularity of electric vehicles (EVs), concerns about the high cost of battery replacement have been a common barrier for many potential buyers. Battery 4 Life addresses this concern by offering comprehensive coverage, ensuring that customers are protected from unforeseen expenses related to battery failures.

"We're thrilled to offer New England's first lifetime EV battery warranty," said Al Salas, owner of Eco Auto. "As part of our commitment to sustainability, this program helps EV owners fully embrace green technology without the fear of costly repairs down the road. With Battery 4 Life, we're providing unmatched value and protection to our customers."

Key Features of the Battery 4 Life Program:

Lifetime Coverage for as long as the customer owns the vehicle.

Up to $10,000 in coverage for EV battery replacements and $5,000 for hybrid battery replacements.

Coverage includes labor, diagnostics, and battery costs.

Available for electric and hybrid vehicles.

The Battery 4 Life program launches at a time when electric vehicle adoption is rising, especially in eco-conscious regions like New England. As the demand for reliable and affordable EV maintenance solutions grows, Eco Auto's Battery 4 Life provides a unique solution to help customers manage the long-term costs of ownership.

About Eco Auto

Eco Auto is a forward-thinking dealership that specializes in electric and hybrid vehicles. The company is committed to promoting sustainability by lowering the barrier to affordable green transportation solutions.

In addition to offering a wide selection of eco-friendly vehicles, Eco Auto also provides smart charging solutions and solar-powered technology for homes and businesses.

Coats of all sizes needed

Caring Partners' Coats for Kids & Families seeks winter coat donations through Jan. 5, 2025

TEWKSBURY — As the price of everyday items like groceries and gasoline continue to rise and temperatures start to drop, families struggling with expenses may find that a warm winter coat is a necessity that isn't in the budget. This year, thousands of children and adults may otherwise not have access to warm winter coats this winter.

As New England's largest coat drive for nearly 30 years, Caring Partners' Coats for Kids & Families collects gently used coats of all sizes and for all ages from Oct. 7, 2024 through Jan. 5, 2025. After collection, the coats are professionally cleaned by Anton's and given to local nonprofits, social service agencies, and schools for distribution.

Due to the economy, 50,000 warm coats are needed to help those adults and children who may not be able to afford a winter coat this year.

School groups, corporations, communities, neighborhoods, and kind individuals are all welcome to donate coats for children and adults at any Anton's Cleaners, Jordan's Furniture, and Enterprise Bank locations now through Jan. 5.

Sponsored by Anton's Cleaners, Enterprise Bank, and Jordan's Furniture, Coats for Kids & Families has collected, cleaned, and distributed 1,810,839 free coats at more than 70 collection locations and events since the program began in 1995.

Coats for Kids & Families accepts warm winter coats that are new or gently used, good quality, and all sizes (especially XL and infant/pre-K sizes). The drive does not accept coats with rips, tears, broken zippers, or permanent stains, nor does the drive accept sweatshirts, vests and spring coats, boots, scarves, or gloves.

"Today more than ever, we are proud to spend three decades giving back directly to the community through Caring Partners. For 30 years, we have never wavered from our mission: anyone who needs a coat will have one," said Arthur Anton Jr., COO of Anton's Cleaners and founder of the program. "Companies, schools, nonprofits, and clubs work hard every year to help us collect, clean, and distribute 50,000 winter coats to anyone who needs one."

According to Eliot Tattelman, President of Jordan's Furniture, "Jordan's is happy to continue our support of Coats for Kids & Families by collecting coats and ensuring that anyone who needs a warm, winter coat will have one. Additionally, by donating funds for the popular School Rewards Program, Jordan's Furniture provides an extra incentive for schools while teaching students the importance of supporting area families in their community. We are proud to, again, be a part of this wonderful program."

"We are honored to support Coats for Kids & Families in their mission to collect, clean, and distribute warm winter coats to those in need," said Alison Burns, Community Relations Director of Enterprise Bank. "Year after year, we are moved and humbled by the outpouring of support and generosity from our customers and communities, and by the efforts and contributions of our very own Enterprise family."

School groups are critical to the program's success. Each year, more than 200 dedicated school groups are responsible for half of all coat collections. Local public, parochial, and independent schools experience the rewards of community service and get incentivized through the School Rewards Program™ offering six generous prizes to top-placing schools who collect the most coats — leveling the playing field so everyone has a chance to win.

Public, parochial, and independent schools may participate. Any school who wins a prize for three consecutive years will have one year of ineligibility. See the website for the registration form and details: antons.com/cfk.

Partners for this year's Coats for Kids & Families drive include Anton's Cleaners, Enterprise Bank, Jordan's Furniture, Boston 25, KISS 108, JAM'N 94.5, 101.7 The Bull, 100.7 WZLX, WRKO, and WBZ News Radio.

All donated coats are cleaned free of charge by Anton's and distributed (never sold) through distribution partners made up of major local nonprofit and social service agencies. Past partners include: Massachusetts Community Action Programs, Salvation Army, Middlesex Human Service Agency, Women's Lunch Place, BU Medical Center Outreach Van Project, Wish Project, Community Giving Tree, Mental Health Association of Greater Lowell, Strafford County Community Action, Catholic Charities, and more.

Shawsheen Tech welcomes community to annual Open House on Sunday, Nov. 3

BILLERICA — Shawsheen Valley Technical School is thrilled to invite community members to its annual Open House on Sunday, Nov. 3, 2024, from 2 to 4 p.m. This in-person event is open to prospective students, alumni, business partners, families, and friends, offering everyone a chance to explore the opportunities available at Shawsheen Valley Regional Vocational Technical School District.

The Open House will be a comprehensive showcase of Shawsheen's extensive academic and vocational-technical programs, highlighting both our outstanding athletic teams and diverse extracurricular clubs and organizations. Visitors can experience interactive demonstrations from various academic and technical programs, giving them a chance to explore the campus on self-guided or student-led tours.

In addition to highlighting programs and student achievements, information about district services and programming will be available. This includes details on Adult Education, the School of Practical Nursing, Summer Enrichment programs, 7th-grade Project Explore, and the aquatics program.

Shawsheen's Open House is a fantastic opportunity to see firsthand, what career and technical education looks like. We encourage all community members to join in to discover what makes Shawsheen a cornerstone of hands-on learning and student success.

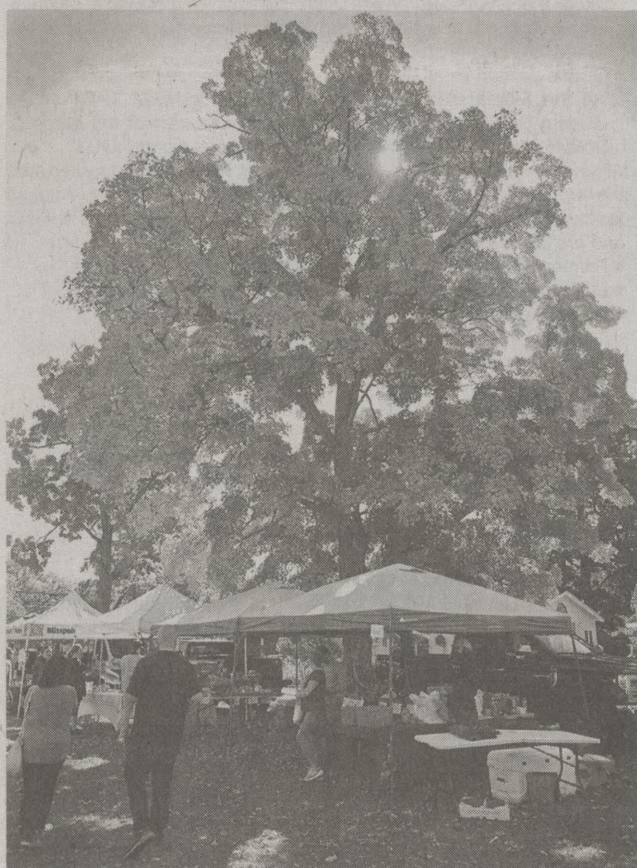

About Shawsheen Valley Regional Vocational School District Established in 1965, Shawsheen Valley Regional Vocational Technical School District (SVRVTS) is a student-centered public institution serving the five member towns of Billerica, Bedford, Burlington, Tewksbury, and Wilmington. Shawsheen Valley Technical High School serves more than 1,300 students in grades 9-12 and is "Dedicated to Excellence in Education," integrating academics with more than 20 vocational-technical career pathways.

Shawsheen is located in Billerica on a sprawling 100-acre campus. The school building features state-of-the-art facilities and athletic fields, twenty-four varsity sports, and dozens of extra-curricular clubs and activities. All of Shawsheen's faculty and staff are committed to the mission "to provide a positive learning experience in a safe educational environment that encourages all students to reach their full potential, emphasizes the value of a strong work ethic, and prepares them for adult life in a competitive world."

Shawsheen Valley Regional Vocational Technical School District also provides high-quality educational programming for youths and adults through Adult Education, After-school Exploratory Programs, Community Events, and Summer Camps and Enrichment Programs. Shawsheen is consistently working to increase its rich and varied programming opportunities for the community, which supports its mission that education is a lifelong, continuous process with many paths to living a successful and fulfilling life.

Book Stew Review

'Grown Women' by Sarai Johnson

By EILEEN MACDOUGALL

The best family saga I've read in a while, this debut novel features four generations of Black trauma and the lessons learned by great-grandma Evelyn; grandmom Charlotte; mom Corrina, and teenager Camille.

The narrative goes back and forth in time, dealing with failure, lack of motivation, poor parenting, and pain — but each woman learns her own hard lesson, which makes for ultimately better treatment for and by all, success, and contentment.

All the accrued learning and painful lessons are so well-written that the listener will be consumed by many "driveway moments" that keep her car-bound. The settings, from rural Tennessee to wealthy NW Washington DC, and the spouses, neighbors, and friends of the women, also add depth to the believable story.

The upward trajectory of teenager Camille, a "material girl," and her transition to a life of selflessness in South America, are particularly rewarding (audiobook).

OBITUARY

Simone Rice

Loved preparing food and decorating

Simone's prayers were answered on a morning in early July 2024 at the age of 90. She was at home with her daughters when she passed. Simone had been waiting patiently to go to heaven to be with her husband Berton, family and many friends who had preceded her in death.

Simone Rice was born in Lowell in 1934. She was the youngest of five siblings. She attended Catholic Schools and worked for her father's grocery market.

As this was during the depression, she learned of tough times and people needing assistance. Her father helped people during that time. This life lesson served her well as she was a humble, thoughtful and giving person.

After graduating high school, she met the love of her life while attending a dance. Bert. She married Berton Rice. They renewed their wedding vows to celebrate their 60th anniversary prior to Bert passing in 2015.

Simone and Bert made a great team, each supportive of the other, accomplishing a great life even during difficult times. Simone was a wonderful wife and partner, dedicated mother, valued employee, treasured friend and loved by many.

Simone is survived by her three daughters, Lou Ann, Allyne and Kathy, as well as three grandchildren, Amra, Aivry and Janeva and one great grandchild, Violet.

Simone was excited for the upcoming nuptials of Amra and Troy, and Rachael and Aivry.

Mainly Simone loved to be with people. She loved preparing food and decorating for a joyful fun event which usually included some kind of silly games, practical jokes, costumes, music and dancing.

When the holidays came all were invited, all friends and relatives came to play together, young and old. Charade's was the most anticipated game of the gatherings.

Christmas was always special and we couldn't have been more blessed. She loved square dancing in the beautiful hoop skirts, and Bert in his western attire.

We were fortunate to get to go camping as a family. The camping trips got larger as the years went by and more and more friends and relatives joined in the fun. Many great memories were made on the Saco River, Kancamagus Hwy, Hampton Beach, Fort Myers, Cape Code and many more.

Simone was an elegant lady, always so well put together from head to toe. That never changed, not even at 90.

Simone loved animals, especially dogs. She raised a few litters of Poodle pups, and we always had a dog or three to love. She continued to always have a companion. I'm sure she is loving them all again in heaven.

Bert told us that he would go shopping with her and would profess to need to find a seat as she would be a while. He said he would position himself where he could watch her, secretly, as she could never pass the display of stuffed animals and would proceed to touch each and every one until she found the softest. He knew her well and loved her heart. She always had a gift for any visiting child, and it passed the soft test.

Being raised by Simone meant following the rules, sometimes we were better at this than other times but in the end, we could not be prouder of who she was to us, and what she taught along the way. We are proud of who she was to her family, and who she was to her friends.

We will always miss our mom, especially the way her smile could light up a room. She went from mom to dear friend. We miss the era of moral and instinctively courageous people. Simone takes with her an era of goodness that we long to replicate.

We thank God for the examples we have been given of their triumph over difficult times, and bringing to bear the important things in life... Faith in God, Love and Friendship.

Family and friends will gather for a Mass of Christian Burial in St. Thomas of Villanova Church, 126 Middlesex Ave., Wilmington on Friday, Oct. 18, 2024, at 10:30 a.m.

Healey-Driscoll Administration awards over $12.4M to improve road safety BRAINTREE — The Healey-Driscoll Administration has awarded more than $12.4 million in federal traffic safety funding to promote safer roads in communities across Massachusetts.

A total of $12,419,715.75 in grant funds were awarded through three grant programs — the Municipal Road Safety Grant Program, State Agency Traffic Safety Grant Program and Underserved Communities Traffic Safety Grant Program, which was introduced for the first time this year. The programs utilize federal funding awarded by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). The funds are managed and administered in Massachusetts by the Office of Grants and Research (OGR).

"Everyone deserves to be safe on Massachusetts streets, whether traveling by car, foot, public transportation or bike. As individual communities work to address their unique traffic safety concerns, these programs provide resources and supports that will ensure they have the tools they need to protect road users," said Governor Maura Healey.

"These programs, taken together, represent a holistic approach to addressing road safety concerns. No one agency or approach can resolve these issues, but the combination of prevention, enforcement, education and outreach initiatives funded through these grants will ensure safer roads for all in Massachusetts," said Lieutenant Governor Kim Driscoll.

The newly created Underserved Communities Traffic Safety Grant Program will deliver $282,378.92 to support outreach and educational programs directed toward low-income communities and specifically Environmental Justice Populations. This marks the first time that OGR has offered a traffic safety grant program strictly for nonprofit organizations. Funded nonprofits will provide programs focused on improving pedestrian safety, programming for teen drivers, impaired driving prevention, distracted driving awareness and other areas of need.

Funds awarded to municipal police departments through the Municipal Road Safety Grant Program will allow the departments to afford initiatives that include conducting traffic safety enforcement, bicyclist and pedestrian safety enforcement, non-enforcement activities such as trainings or community events, and purchasing traffic safety equipment or safety items to distribute in the community such as bike helmets. This year, OGR awarded $5,637,336.83 to 191 departments — a record number of recipients for the program.

In addition, six state agencies will receive grants totaling $6.5 million through the State Agency Traffic Safety Grant Program. Funding will support projects including training, educational and outreach programs, enforcement and crash prevention efforts.

"The initiatives funded through these grant programs will ensure that drivers in communities across the state are better informed and safer behind the wheel. These grants promote strong partnerships between nonprofits, community members and public safety officials. Those relationships are key to our public safety strategy," said Public Safety and Security Secretary Terrence Reidy.

"These grants fund critical initiatives that will help us toward our goal of reducing traffic crashes, serious injuries and fatalities in Massachusetts. We're proud to work with local, state, federal and nonprofit partners as well as community stakeholders to improve traffic safety for all road users," said OGR Executive Director Kevin Stanton.

"MassDOT is pleased to work collaboratively with municipal leaders, nonprofits, and other partners to further improve road safety," said Transportation Secretary and CEO Monica Tibbits-Nutt. "Re-ucing traffic deaths and injuries requires a whole-of-government approach and MassDOT will continue to engage stakeholders in support of public education, the development of safety action plans, and the installation of infrastructure to make travel safer for everyone in our cities and towns."

"The federal funding will support steps to reduce injuries and deaths on our roadways," said Registrar of Motor Vehicles Colleen Ogilvie. "All of us in the transportation field and the public sector are grateful for additional resources that help to prevent impaired driving and raise awareness about the danger of distracted driving so that we can have safer roads for our residents and everyone passing through Massachusetts."

"Education, training, and partnerships are all important elements to helping improve the safety of everyone on our roads," said Highway Administrator Jonathan Gulliver. "We are grateful that these grant programs are awarding millions of dollars across the state as the funding will help expand safety initiatives and give municipal leaders and partners additional resources to work with."

TOWN OF WILMINGTON
PLANNING BOARD

In accordance with the provisions of M.G.L. Chapter 40A, Section 5, the Planning Board will hold a Public Hearing on Tuesday, October 22, 2024 at 7:00 p.m. in the Town Hall Auditorium at 121 Glen Road, Wilmington, MA on the Zoning Articles proposed for inclusion on the Warrant for the Special Town Meeting to be held December 7, 2024. The Public Hearing will be conducted jointly with the Finance Committee.

The following summarizes the Zoning Articles that will be considered at the Public Hearing:

To see if the Town will vote to amend the Zoning Bylaw and associated Zoning Map of the Town of Wilmington by creating a new Section 6.12 for the MBTA Communities Multi-family Overlay District (MOD) with four Sub-districts (Main Street Mixed Use Sub-district, Burlington Avenue Sub-district, Deming Way Sub-district, and West Street Sub-district), or take any other action related thereto.

To see if the Town will vote to amend the Zoning Bylaw Section 6.5 Site Plan Review by adding "Final action on site plans for allowed uses per Table 1 Principal Use Regulations shall be limited to approval or approval with the imposition of reasonable conditions." to the end of the second paragraph of Section 6.5.3, or to take any other action related thereto.

To see if the Town will vote to amend the Zoning Bylaw by deleting the entirety of Section 6.11 Inclusionary Housing and replacing with a new Section 6.11 Inclusionary Housing, or to take any other action related thereto.

The Zoning Articles and maps may be inspected by contacting the Department of Planning & Conservation at 978-658-8238 Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The Articles may also be found on the Town website.

Tewksbury library comes under fire for canceling event

bury Public Library have received feedback about the program we have scheduled for Oct. 2, titled ‘Males and Females are Different, and that Matters in Sports.’ We appreciate all feedback on our services, especially from residents who asked us to reconsider holding this program.

“This program was created to provide an alternative perspective to the one shared in a March program on this hot-button issue in our society. In considering this program and resulting comments, we discovered a lack of statistically significant research to support either viewpoint favoring or disfavoring transgender participation in sports.

“We determined that we cannot facilitate a factual, good-faith presentation on this topic as we had hoped.

“In addition, the level of intolerance for a discussion around this issue has brought bullying to our staff. This has created a level of unhealthy pressure on our library staff that they do not deserve. We are canceling this program in order to prevent any further stress on our staff.”

Shortly after the cancellation notice was sent to participants, the subject was brought up at a Tewksbury Community Groups meeting, which normally discusses the activity and business of local community groups.

A video of this meeting surfaced on YouTube, capturing a heated discussion between former Tewksbury state representative and former chair of the MA GOP, Jim Lyons and library staff member, Robert Hayes.

Lyons was in attendance at the meeting to give an update on the activities of the Republican Town Committee, but chose to use his five minutes holding the floor of this meeting as a platform to discuss his personal views on the cancellation of the “Males and Females are Different” event.

On the video, Lyons referred to both the Library’s March and October transgender athletes in sports presentations as “hearings” rather than informational Zoom events, and continually asked Hayes, a Community Outreach and Technical Service Librarian at the Tewksbury Public Library, who was in attendance for the community groups discussion why the Oct. 2 event was canceled.

Hayes explained that it was not his decision, and that Lyons needed to bring this matter up with the library director, who was not in attendance at this meeting.

Hayes did provide a copy of the press release that was sent to those who signed up for the canceled event for Lyons to review.

Lyons continued to go on about his opinion that it was unfair of transgender athletes to participate in women’s sports, stating, “This is an outrage” and “I have the right to speak, I know folks like you don’t like to hear a different viewpoint, but I have the right to speak.”

Keith Sullivan, former Chair of the Tewksbury School Committee and current Vice President of Tewksbury Pop Warner, and Melissa Braga, current Chair of Tewksbury Board of Health, were also in attendance at this meeting, and both spoke on the subject of the canceled event.

Sullivan said, “Outside of anyone’s feelings on the issue, I have a real problem where people it seems like arbitrarily making decisions for other people. I find that problematic.”

He added, “I happen to agree with Mr. Lyons, I don’t think men should be playing in girls sports.”

Braga pointed out that the library is a public institution, and she voiced that the library should allow both sides of the issue. Ultimately, the library Zoom event was rescheduled for the following night on Thursday, Oct. 3, 2024.

When the director of the Tewksbury Public Library Diane Giarrusso was asked about the canceling and rescheduling of this event, she declined to comment.

(Ed’s note: the library director agreed to answer some questions and that story will appear next week) agement permit for 100-110 Fordham Road. Gingrich shared that there was a new condition that the parking chart be revised, and they added the electrical exhibit to the materials, but otherwise approved the decisions as amended.

The site plan review, stormwater management permit, and parking relief special permit hearing was continued for 21A Concord St. The site civil engineer described that they wanted to renovate an existing two-story building for classes.

Changes made so far included fire truck circulation, removing two parking spaces, identifying a location for the signage, upgrading electrical pumps, relocating an existing panel, and providing more detail on the parking agreement.

They were trying to put in place a shared parking agreement for an offsite parking location at 99 Concord St. from which they would shuttle students at 6:30 a.m. and 6:45 a.m. and back later at 3:30 p.m.

While they received a request from Alunni to submit for an earth removal permit, they said in their opinion it wasn’t necessary because they would only move 450 yards of material offsite.

Gingrich asked the board how they wanted to move forward before the parking agreement was put in place. Chair Terence Boland suggested that they could put something specific in the draft conditions. Gingrich also asked if they wanted to limit the shuttle service in the conditions, but they didn’t want to do that.

A resident commented expressing concern that students may use the parking spaces at their nearby property, and the representatives for the project suggested they use color-coded parking spaces for the students, to be enforced by towing.

The board voted to continue this hearing to Nov. 12.

Regarding the Board of Appeals cases, Planner/Economic Development Coordinator Jayne Wierzbicki explained that the residents at 31 Blanchard Road wanted to increase the impervious area to 18.5 percent, and the residents at 6 Carmel St. wanted to extend their nonconformity from 28.4 feet setback to 27.3 feet. The board recommended that both cases be approved.

Regarding the as of right multi-family housing district, Gingrich explained that they separated the main article so that it could be approved with a simple majority at the special Town Meeting on Dec. 7. There were three total articles related to this change — two to change the by-laws. Then, there were articles for unpaid bills and the Wildwood School project.

The board will meet next on Oct. 22 at 7 p.m. in a joint public hearing with the Finance Committee to discuss their recommendations on the special Town Meeting warrant articles.

Winchester Hospital helping those overcome breast cancer

By RYAN LAROCHE

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month. According to the National Breast Cancer Foundation, Inc., more than 360,000 people will be diagnosed with breast cancer this year alone. However, thanks to advancements in science, when caught in its earliest, localized stages, the five-year relative survival rate of breast cancer is 99 percent.

Locally, Winchester Hospital is doing all it can to help women (and some men) battle this disease. Kelley Cornell, MD, Associate Director of the Winchester Hospital Breast Care Center noted some of the ways the hospital treats breast cancer.

“At Winchester Hospital, we use a personalized approach to every patient’s care plan. Treatment plans are increasingly tailored to the individual’s tumor characteristics, overall health, and specific circumstances. In general surgery, radiation, chemotherapy and hormonal therapy are used to treat breast cancer. Not all women will require all modalities and not all women get the treatment in the same order.”

Obviously, early detection works best and can save lives. Delphine Lui, MD, Associate Director of the Winchester Hospital Breast Care Center pointed out how women need to start getting a mammogram by the age of 40.

“Women of average risk for breast cancer should get their screening mammograms once a year beginning at age 40. Recommendations for women of higher than average risk may require earlier or more intensive screening, or supplemental screening with breast MRI.

“A woman should consider personal risk assessment by age 25, especially Black women and women of Ashkenazi Jewish heritage, so that those at higher than average risk can be identified and appropriately screened.

“At Winchester Hospital, if a patient and her primary provider have identified her as a higher breast cancer risk, she can be referred to our breast specialist for evaluation and ongoing monitoring.”

Of course, it’s not just women at risk for breast cancer. According to the National Breast Cancer Foundation, Inc. “men can get breast cancer, too.” This year, they say it is estimated that approximately 2,800 men will be diagnosed with breast cancer and 530 will die.

While they note that percentage is small, they advise men to check themselves periodically by doing a breast self-exam while in the shower and reporting any changes to their physicians.

Nancy Littlehale, MSN, RN, Nurse Coordinator of the Winchester Hospital Breast Care Center said while men don’t necessarily require a mammogram, “a small subset of men who are high risk by family history or risk assessment can talk to their doctors about the appropriate surveillance. High

'Folie à Deux' reckons with 'The Joker'

(Niko Tavernise/Warner Bros. Pictures via AP)

By JAKE COYLE
AP Film Writer

Let's put on a happy face, at least to start, for "Joker: Folie à Deux."

If there's one undeniably compelling thing about both Todd Phillips' divisive 2019 original and his new follow-up, it's that these movies are best when they dance. The first movie might have been a muddled attempt to retrofit a "Taxi Driver"-styled '70s realism into a Joker origin story, but, man, when Joaquin Phoenix is on his toes, it's hard to look away.

Just the image of a gaunt Phoenix decked out in the red suit, with his green-streaked hair slicked back, was enough to give "Joker" a kick. The role gave Phoenix, a full-bodied actor, a day-glo canvas on which to unleash torrents of movement, cycling between wounded restraint and flamboyant release, in a comic-book genre that usually leaves performers paralyzed by spandex.

He's nearly as captivating in "Joker: Folie à Deux," a musical that closely follows the events of the first film as an imprisoned Arthur Fleck (Phoenix) goes on trial for the murders that occurred at the culmination of "Joker." Even the way Phoenix theatrically smokes as Arthur — which he does quite a lot in "Folie à Deux" — shows you how much he's luxuriating in the limber physicality of the character.

But any sense of forward momentum has gone out the window in "Joker: Folie à Deux," which opens in theaters Thursday. Phillips has followed his very anti-hero take on the Joker with an a very anti-sequel. It combines prison drama, courthouse thriller and musical, and yet turns out remarkably inert given how combustible the original was. If "Joker" — which some claimed sympathized the kind of lone gunmen that populate our real world — stirred debate, "Folie à Deux" is a self-conscious rejoinder to all that discussion, spending much of its time interrogating Arthur's actions from the last movie.

That makes it a theoretically interesting film but a curiously dull one, particularly given that it stars two such incredibly watchable performers in Phoenix and Lady Gaga, who plays a fellow inmate, Lee Quinzel, infatuated with the Joker. Phillips deserves credit for subverting expectations. Most directors would turn Arthur loose for a sequel chock-full of violence and mayhem, not Burt Bacharach song-and-dance sequences. But laudable as the intentions of "Folie à Deux" may be, it feels thoughtfully but tiresomely stuck in the past.

"You gotta joke for us today?" asks an Arkham State Hospital guard (Brendan Gleeson, back inside a jail post-"Paddington 2") as they pull Arthur from his cell. He is seemingly even thinner now, his shoulder blades sticking out. A wan look shows he's jokeless, too, having clearly reverted back to the depression that Arthur earlier stewed in.

That interaction, and others that follow, carries on some of the themes of "Joker," which imagined Arthur and the mania that springs from him as the warped product of a cruel urban world and failed social safety net. Arthur is now heading for either the death penalty or life in prison, it's just a matter of whether his attorney (Catherine Keener) can convince a jury that he suffers from split personality syndrome.

We are again asked to consider and weigh how Arthur is treated by those around him, including the guards who at turns mock him, ask him for his autograph or show him a little compassion. Gotham City district attorney, Harvey Dent (Harry Lawtey), believes he should die for killing five, including the late-night talk-show host Murray Franklin live on air. Does Arthur deserve our sympathy? "Folie à Deux" is a little like the "Seinfeld" finale: a moral, courtroom rehashing.

The throngs outside the courthouse clamor not for Arthur but the Joker, who they regard as an anarchist martyr. They crave entertainment, and Arthur, or the Joker, is tempted to give it to them. One psychology expert claims Arthur's mental illness is "just a show." In many ways — including a mock Looney Tunes cartoon that opens the movie — "Folie à Deux" continues the first movie's interest in considering, and satirizing, what it is we crave in entertain-

HomeNewsHere RECIPE

PUMPKIN SPICE PORK TACOS

TACO TIME WITH A TWIST - Classic fall flavor meets family-favorite weeknight meal in this Pumpkin Spice Pork Tacos recipe. Hearty, slow-cooked pork shoulder combines with a savory pumpkin spice seasoning blend for a dish that's both comforting and unique. Rubbed with aromatic spices and cooked to perfection in your slow cooker, the pork becomes irresistibly tender and flavorful.

STEPS

1. In a small bowl, mix together the salt, pumpkin pie spice, and sugar.
2. Place the pork butt on a plate and season on all sides with the spice mix. Refrigerate, uncovered, for 2 hours or overnight.
3. In a large bowl, whisk together the pumpkin puree and beef stock.
4. Place the pork butt in a slow cooker and pour the pumpkin and stock mixture over the pork. Cover; cook on high for 6 to 8 hours, until the pork is tender and shreds easily when pierced with a fork.
5. Using a slotted spoon or skimmer, carefully remove the pork from the slow cooker. Transfer to a large serving platter, and shred the meat with two forks.
6. To serve, spoon pork onto tortillas, garnish with red onions, cilantro, and salsa. Leftover pork will keep in an airtight container in the refrigerator for up to 5 days.

EXPERT TIPS

• Don't have tortillas? Try this pork on a bun with BBQ sauce for a pumpkin spice sloppy joe or add it to rice and beans for a satisfying taco bowl.

• Store leftover pork in the braising liquid to help prevent it from drying out.

• To heat tortillas for serving: Stack and wrap the tortillas in a damp paper towel and microwave on high for 3 minutes.

• The pumpkin spice dry rub used in this recipe

INGREDIENTS:

- 3 tablespoons salt
- 3 tablespoons pumpkin pie spice
- 1 teaspoon granulated sugar
- 1 (6 to 8 lb) boneless pork butt
- 1 can (15-oz) pumpkin puree (not pumpkin pie mix)
- 4 cups low sodium beef stock
- 20 soft flour tortillas
- Diced red onion
- Cilantro leaves
- Red or green salsa is not only delicious on pork, but also fantastic on chicken, beef, and tofu.

ment. Do we want the "real" story of Arthur or the fantasy of the Joker?

I'm not sure "Folie à Deux" always successfully pegs audience desire, though. What I most wanted in "Folie à Deux" was for it to stop playing with the concepts of its characters and instead let them breathe a little more on their own. It's not surprising that the movie works best when Arthur and Lee lock into one other. This is Arthur's first blush with the love he's lacked ("She gets me," he says), but their connection may also have more to do with fantasy. Their time together is actually somewhat limited but, in Arthur's imagination, their emotions soar in songs, mostly old standards ("Get Happy," "For Once in My Life," "That's Life"), they sing tenderly to one another.

These musical interludes break free of an otherwise fairly bleak and belabored narrative, as a legal and penal system that doesn't know how to handle Arthur's pain — or that he's a reflection of their failure — help twist him back into the Joker. Once the Joker does fully emerge, Phoenix's Fleck is visibly aghast at what he's wrought.

All of this wrestling with "The Joker" makes "Folie à Deux" an impressively superhero-movie-like, and a deliberate denial of audience expectation. But it's also spinning its wheels. It's not surprising that "Folie à Deux" originated in concept as a stage show. It's stuck in place, with only Phoenix's dazzling contortions to marvel at.

"Joker: Folie à Deux," a Warner Bros. release, is rated R by the Motion Picture Association for some strong violence, language throughout, some sexuality, and brief full nudity. Running time: 139 minutes. Two stars out of four.

risk scenarios for men include: genetic predispositions, history of radiation exposure to the chest and Klinefelter syndrome."

When detected in men, breast cancer is usually found as a hard lump underneath the nipple and areola. The National Breast Cancer Foundation, Inc. says men carry a 19 percent higher mortality rate than women do, primarily because awareness among men is lower and men are less likely to assume a lump is breast cancer, leading to delays in seeking treatment.

At Winchester Hospital, Patricia Selleck Graham, Manager of the Winchester Hospital Breast Care Center, said "breast cancer accounts for 52 percent of all the cancers we treat in women" (this according to the 2022-2023 Cancer Registry Data).

Cornell noted, when asked how treatable the disease is, "consensus remains that early detection through screening and awareness of changes in breast health can dramatically improve breast cancer outcomes. Many cancers have features that can be specifically targeted for efficient and effective therapy."

This means, the earlier its detected, the better chance of a full recovery. This is why it's so important for women to get mammograms, especially those in high risk categories or with a history of breast cancer in the family.

The survival rate has also increased thanks to advancements made over the years and decades. Cornell said improved imaging techniques, such as Digital Breast Tomosynthesis (3D) mammography, CEM (Contrast Enhanced Mammography) and Breast MRI Imaging and Biopsy, enhance the accuracy of tumor localization and characterization. These advancements have led to better preoperative planning and help surgeons more effectively remove cancerous tissue while preserving healthy tissue and reducing the likelihood of finding residual cancer after initial surgery.

"Targeted therapy and immunotherapy treatments are becoming increasingly relevant," she added. "For example, HER2-positive tumors may be treated with targeted therapies like trastuzumab, while immunotherapy can be an option for some triple-negative breast cancers or residual treatment burden after treatment. 13 genes are currently associated with breast cancer. Some are also associated with other cancers for which the patient may be at risk."

"Improved genetic sequencing has helped us identify women who carry genetic abnormalities that can predispose them to breast cancer. These women would be eligible for various breast cancer surveillance modalities."

Of course it's not just about the treatment, it's also about keeping patients' spirits up and making them feel confident they can beat a breast cancer diagnosis. Littlehale pointed to a strong support system in helping someone overcome breast cancer, no matter what the survival rate is.

"Once a woman has a diagnosis, it is essential to help them identify their champions in life. It may be their partner, relatives or friends. Supporting someone dealing with breast cancer can be challenging, but presence and encouragement can make a significant difference in their emotional well-being," she noted.

"Some strategies to help keep their spirits up: listen actively and don't rush to solve a problem. Be positive but authentic, don't give false general hope but find hope in their situation. Help people maintain their normalcy. Be mindful of their energy levels and plan accordingly."

"For example, your tennis buddy may not be able to play but you can have fun watching a tennis match together."

Another way to support a loved one could be by donating to a cause that supports breast cancer research. Winchester Hospital holds many fundraisers throughout the year to raise money for all types of cancer research including breast cancer.

In the past, said Lui, Winchester Hospital Philanthropy has run successful gala fundraisers for the benefit of the Winchester Hospital Breast Care Center, that supported various new directions of growth. Some of those funds have contributed to incorporating Digital Mammography and Breast Tomosynthesis into the Breast Care Center. These state of the art technologies are now integral parts of the breast care armamentarium.

"Going forward, future fundraisers could support new advances in breast imaging and therapy," she added.

Philanthropy donations can be directed specifically restricted to the Winchester Hospital Breast Care Center or the Winchester Hospital Center for Cancer Center.

There are a few myths about breast cancer the National Breast Cancer Foundation Inc. helpfully clears up such as:

• injuries to the breast do not cause cancer

• there is no connection between breast size and cancer

• breast cancer does not only affect middle-aged or older women

• breast pain is not a sign of cancer

• consuming sugar does not cause cancer

• carrying a phone in your bra does not cause cancer

• all breast cancers are not the same

• bras do not cause cancer

• finding a lump in your breast doesn't necessarily mean you have cancer

• mammograms do not cause cancer

• breast cancer is not contagious

• antiperspirants and deodorants do not cause cancer

— Friday, October 18, at 8:00 p.m. — Regent Theatre presents: 'One-of-A-Kind' concert tribute to music of Billy Joel and Elton John

Joe Boucher and Chris Eastburn present a genuinely dynamic and highly acclaimed concert that combines a four-piece classic rock band featuring Joe on piano/vocals backed by a string quartet. The performance is a tribute to the exhilarating music of Elton John and Billy Joel. This concert could be unlike any you have seen. It combines a four-piece rock band featuring Joe Boucher on the piano singing lead vocals, backed by a four-piece string orchestra section arranged by Christopher Eastburn. The music of Piano Men, the Music of Elton John and Billy Joel, concentrates heavily on John's and Joel's recordings during their heyday in the 1970s, when their many hit albums featured lush orchestrations.

This concert is a benefit for the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society and a portion of the proceeds will be directly donated to the LLS upon settlement with the talent on-stage and The Regent Theatre. The LLS mission is to cure leukemia, lymphoma, Hodgkin's disease, and myeloma and improve the quality of life of patients and their families.

About Joe Boucher: Joe grew up in the quaint seaside village of Biddeford, Maine, on the New England coast. He is a singer and songwriter who, for eight years, fronted the power pop band Frotus Caper. They recorded and released four critically acclaimed albums while performing constantly. Throughout that time, he worked regularly as a studio session musician, playing piano and arranging pop, rock, and folk songs for many artists. For 15 seasons, Joe has acted as the Concert Manager for The Portland Symphony Orchestra.

The Regent Theatre "Arlington's Show Place of Entertainment" since 1916 is located on 7 Medford Street in Arlington, Massachusetts—minutes from Cambridge, Boston, and Routes 2 and 95.

Doors Open at 7:15 pm. For tickets and more information visit <https://regenttheatre.com> or call 781-646-4849.

Tewksbury PD receives money for road safety

TEWKSBURY — Chief Ryan Columbus reports that the Tewksbury Police Department has been awarded $39,447.73 in state grant funding to improve road safety.

The Healey-Driscoll Administration awarded more than $12.4 million in funding through the Municipal Road Safety, State Agency Traffic Safety, and Underserved Communities Traffic Safety Grant Programs.

The Tewksbury Police Department received funding through the Municipal Road Grant Safety Program. The funding will allow departments to afford road safety initiatives such as traffic safety enforcement, bicyclist and pedestrian safety enforcement, non-enforcement activities such as training or community events, and the purchase of traffic safety equipment or other community safety items such as bike helmets.

The Department will use a portion of the funding to pay for 24 local teen drivers to attend a crash prevention class through the non-profit organization In Control Family Foundation.

The course, "Crash Prevention 101 - Introduction to Crash Prevention," educates drivers about year-round road hazards through a combination of classroom lessons, group exercises and one-on-one driving instruction.

Funding will also be used to purchase a new pole-mounted speed radar sign and a data tracking device.

The Department will also use the funds to provide overtime payment throughout the year to staff six targeted campaigns on impaired operation, seat belt enforcement, distracted driving and speeding.

"The Department is incredibly fortunate to receive this funding that will reinforce road safety in our community and provide an opportunity for our young drivers to prepare themselves to drive on their own," said Chief Columbus.

Wildcats nearly pull off amazing comeback

WHS football almost erases 12-point deficit in fourth quarter

By SCOTT OLSZEWSKI

sports@yourtowncrier.com

The Wilmington High football team battled back from a 20-8 deficit early in the fourth quarter to cut the lead to four, but could not take the lead as the Wildcats lost at home to Watertown, 28-26, last Friday night.

Wilmington was able to get the ground game going with Ayden Bellevy rushing for 93 yards on 11 carries and a touchdown with Gus Lambert adding 79 yards on 18 carries.

'Cat quarterback Mark Holleran ran and threw for a touchdown in the loss.

Watertown quarterback G'Nai Concannon-Garvin led the Raiders, running for two touchdowns, and throwing for one.

"We could not get stops when we needed to and we missed some tackles on key plays which has hurt us all year," said Wilmington coach Craig Turner.

"We missed a tackle on a screen pass for an 80-yard touchdown, and made some mistakes on offense. We are an inexperienced team making inexperienced plays in crunch time that we needed to convert. I am proud of the way they played hard to get back in the game, but we just need to clean up the mistakes."

After an interception ended Wilmington's first drive, Concannon-Garvin threw deep but was intercepted by Bellevy at the Wilmington 13.

The Wildcats managed to take advantage of the turnover, going 87 yards in 12 plays and eventually scoring.

Faced with a third-and-five at the Wildcat 18, Holleran came through throwing to Collin Allard at the 25. The 'Cats again were faced with a third-and-one at the Wilmington 49, but Bellevy was able to break free for a 13-yard carry.

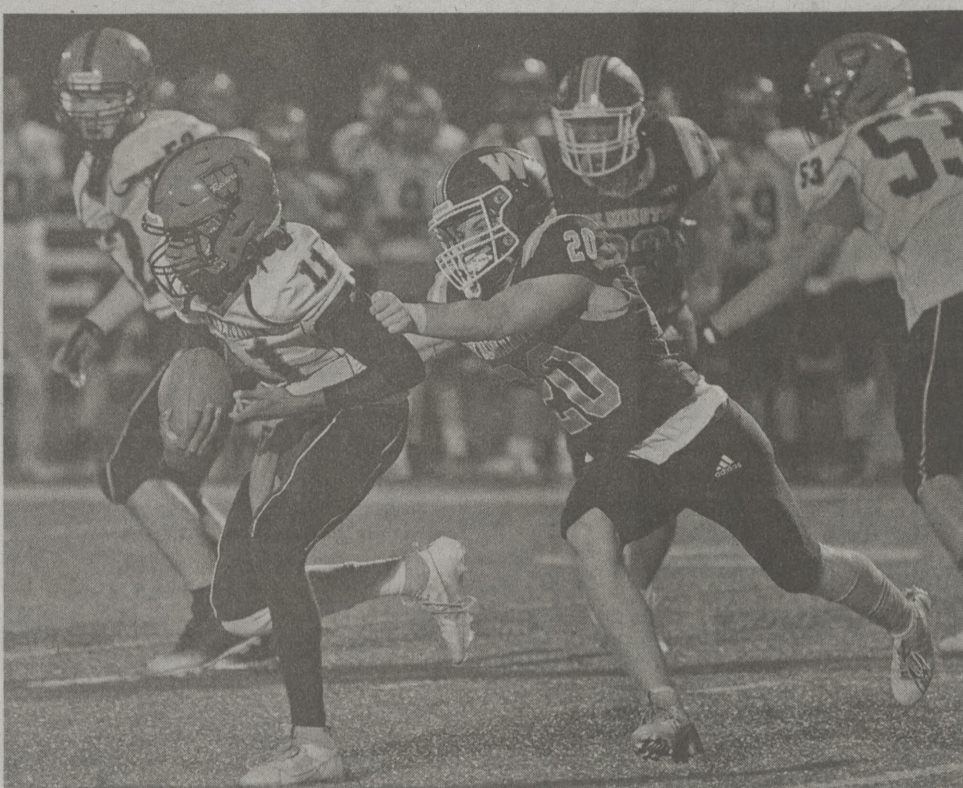

Three plays later on first down from the Raider 21,

Holleran threw to the left corner of the end zone. Marvins Jean was able to pull the ball away from the defender, making a leaping catch for the touchdown.

After a delay of game penalty, Holleran kept the ball on the 2-point conversion, running left just getting over the goal line giving Wilmington an 8-0 lead with 10:05 left in the half.

Watertown was able to answer on its next possession, starting from their own 40. The visitors moved the ball 49 yards in eight plays, but were faced with a third-and-10 from the Wilmington 11. Patrick Paul McHugh took the handoff, breaking through the line and into the end zone for a touchdown. Concannon-Garvin threw to Joseph Connors for the 2-point conversion to tie the game at eight with 6:25 left in the half.

The Raiders were able to take the lead to open the second half starting from their own 33.

Five plays into the drive at the Wilmington 40, Concannon-Garvin threw a screen pass to Jayden Pineda, who broke through the line to the Wildcat 14. The drive ended on first and goal at the three when Ethan Spickler ran up the middle for the score.

Concannon-Garvin ran for the two point conversion, but was stopped at the one as Watertown now led 14-8 with 8:07 left in the third.

Watertown added to its lead starting from its own 22 with 11:54 left in the game.

On second and eight from the 24-yard line, Concannon-Garvin threw to Josiah Bowen at the 27. He broke a tackle, and went down the right side 76 yards for a touchdown. The 2-point conversion failed, but Watertown now had a 20-8 lead with 11:06 left in the game.

The Wildcats were able to answer on their next possession, starting from their own 40.

Five plays later on fourth-and-two from the Raider 39, Holleran ran left breaking a tackle for a four yard gain. Bellevy kept the drive going on second-and-10 with a 12-yard carry to the 23. On first down Holleran passed to Bellevy at the 18. A penalty for a helmet-to-helmet hit move the ball to the eight. On third down, Bellevy ran up the middle for the touchdown. He also ran in the 2-point conversion with 7:08 left in the game to cut the lead to 20-16.

It didn't take long for Watertown to add to its lead starting from their own 45.

Jayden Pineda opened the drive running right for a 27 yard gain. On second and six from the 24, Concannon-Garvin carried right breaking a tackle and went the distance for a touchdown. Josiah Brown ran for 2-point conversion to make it a 28-16 game.

Wilmington started their next drive from their own 30.

On third down from the Wildcat 35, Holleran passed to Pasquale DeLucia at the Wilmington 41 and he carried the ball to the Raider 44 with 4:44 left in the game.

Holleran followed that up with a 36-yard completion to Jean at the eight. Three plays later on third and eight, Holleran passed to Allard at the one and managed to fall into the in the end zone for the score. Holleran passed to Maxwell Bagtaz for the 2-point conversion with 3:31 left in the game to cut the lead to four.

The Wildcats went for the onside kick and it was successful as the ball went off a defender and into the air before it was recovered by Max Glazer at the Wilmington 45.

Wilmington was faced with a fourth-and-seven at their own 48. Holleran dropped back, but was forced to run left. He managed to break two tackles running down the left side to the Raider 34 with 2:25 left in the game.

Four plays later on third and six from the 19, Holleran dropped back to pass, but the ball was tipped, and was intercepted by Josiah Brown at the 14 with 58 seconds left.

Watertown ran out the clock and ended the game on fourth and three when Concannon-Garvin took the snap with three seconds left, running out of the end zone as time expired for the safety and the victory.

Wilmington is now 0-4 and travels to undefeated Burlington on Thursday night.

Rams trample Wayland

Shawsheen football remains undefeated

By DOUG HASTINGS
Sports Correspondent
sports@yourtowncrier.com

Senior Sid Tildsley has set many records for being a quarterback at Shawsheen Tech.

When undefeated Wayland visiting Shawsheen's Cassidy Field on Friday, it certainly was aware of Tildsley's strong arm and knack for finding junior receiver Dyllon Pratt.

When the game ended, the Warriors held Pratt without a single reception and Tildsley didn't have a single completion. He was 0 for 5.

Zero yards. "I don't think he had to (make a completion)," said Ram coach Al Costabile with a laugh.

Indeed, it was the running game of the Rams that did all of the damage behind an offensive line that just pushed its way up and down the field.

It all added up to a 28-0 Shawsheen win over Wayland at Senior Night for the Rams.

Tildsley had three of the four Ram touchdowns, all on the ground, and senior Zack Timmons had the other.

Wayland finished the evening with only four possessions in all, just one in the entire second half.

"Just a complete effort," Costabile said. "I thought the defense played great. They made life so difficult for Wayland on every down and every big play. It was a total team effort. I'm just so proud of the effort."

Wayland's Max Dresens, one of the area's top tailbacks, had five carries for 7 yards in the first half and eight rushes for 16 yards in the second half. Senior quarterback Bowen Morrison was 0 for 3 in the first half, nearly getting intercepted by Ram senior Will Holloway on his first attempt and having his next two offerings swatted away by junior Eric Banda and senior Cullen Walsh.

For the game, Morrison was 1 for 5 for seven yards, his only completion being to senior Owen Finnegan for 7 yards on a fourth-and-four Shawsheen opened the game with a 57-yard drive that took six minutes and 11 plays.

Timmons scored on a 10-yard run and eight of the plays by Shawsheen were runs.

The Warriors punted away their first drive from their own end zone and the Rams scored on the first play of the second quarter after an eight-play drive that started at the Wayland 30-yard line.

Seven of the eight plays were runs including Tildsley's 1-yard plunge into the end zone. A 10-yard run by Jake Banda helped set up the score.

Wayland's next drive lasted just three plays and led to Shawsheen's third score, a 50-yard possession that took seven plays to materialize and ended with an 18-yard run by Tildsley with 2:56 left in the first half.

A 25-yard pickup by Banda on second-and-23 from the Ram 37-yard line helped set up the score.

Another three-play drive by Wayland ended with a punt and the Rams made it 4 for 4 with scoring drives, moving 66 yards in eight plays and scoring when Tildsley ran in from 14 yards out, tight roping the right sideline on his way into the end zone.

"Even in Pop Warner, I was considered a running quarterback," said Tildsley after the game. "I don't mind three rushing touchdowns."

Senior kicker Jack Finn continued a terrific season with his fourth extra point of the night for a 28-0 lead with only seven seconds to go in the first half.

Wayland totaled minus-19 yards in its three first-half drives and no first downs.

Shawsheen totaled 34 plays in all including 26 rushes for 199 yards.

Tildsley carried 13 times for 96 yards in the first half.

"We have really figured out that we're a running team," said Tildsley. "Coach (Eric) Banda stepped in this year and it's taken our offensive line to another level and I give my credit to them. The fact that we could rush for 700 yards in the first four games is incredible."

Wayland started the second half with a drive that took up almost the entire third quarter and included a 43-yard touchdown run by senior Max Dresens that was called back by a holding penalty.

The 14-play drive saw the Warriors pick up three first downs, but ended at the Shawsheen 26-yard line on downs.

It would be the final time the Warriors had the ball.

The Rams killed the last three minutes of the third quarter and the entire fourth quarter with its last possession, a 20-play march down field that saw Tildsley take a knee at the 1-yard line with 15 seconds to play.

Shawsheen converted three times on third down and once on fourth down during the final drive.

For the night, Tildsley finished with 130 yards rushing on 20 totes. Banda had 100 yards on 15 carries and Timmons totaled 47 yards on nine rushes.

Shawsheen (4-0) has a bye week next weekend and returns to the field Oct. 18 for a home game against Greater Lowell in a key Commonwealth Athletic Conference battle.

The Shawsheen Tech volleyball team took two more steps toward an undefeated season last week with victories over Minute-man Tech and Mystic Valley Regional.

The Rams won both matches, 3-0.

Shawsheen beat Minute-man by scores of 25-16, 25-8 and 25-13.

Francesca Reardon led the Rams with nine kills while Faith Martin and Hope Didonato added five each. Caden Cooper tallied up 11 service aces.

Against Mystic, Shawsheen won by scores of 25-11, 25-23 and 25-19.

Senior Fiona Rexford with 9 kills, Didonato added 5 kills and 3 blocks and junior Izzy Disalvo contributed with 6 aces.

The volleyball team has a busy week with a match against Whittier Tech on Tuesday, Lawrence on Thursday and Lynn Tech on Friday.

GOLFERS MOVE TO 11-1

Shawsheen Tech's golf team kept his terrific season going last week with recent victories over Nashoba Tech and Northeast Regional.

The Rams were also second at the state vocational tournament's Large Division at the Acushnet River Golf Course with a score of 311.

Scoring for the Rams were Max Carpenter with a 2-over total 74.

Joe DaSilva had a 79, Larry Cullity shot a 77 and Dylan Higson ended up with an 81.

Shawsheen beat Northeast Regional by a score of 166 to 122.

Low medalist for the Rams was Carpenter with a 2-under-par 33 with 40 points.

Also scoring for the Rams was Gavyn Welch with 23 points, DaSilva with 22 points, Cullity with 31 points, Aidan Fortunado with 24 points and Ryan Dodge with 25 points.

The Rams beat Nashoba Tech by a score of 179-131 at the Patriot Golf Course.

Low medalist for the round was Carpenter shooting a 1 over par 36 with 34 points.

Also scoring for the Rams was DaSilva with 38 and 30 points, Cullity with a 39 and 28 points, Dodge with a 38 and 30 points, Fortunado with a 40 and 26 points and Higson with a 39 and 29 points.

Shawsheen wraps up its regular season this week with matches against Lowell Catholic, Bedford High and Greater Lawrence.

GIRLS SOCCER WINS BIG

The Shawsheen Tech girls soccer team blasted Lowell Catholic last week by a 9-1 score.

The Rams improved to 3-6 overall and 3-2 in the Commonwealth Athletic Conference.

Judith Sloman had three goals for Shawsheen and Maria Carafio added two.

Also chipping in with goals was Kailyn Harless,

Ava Noble, Makenzie Weatherbee and Elli Gillis.

Collecting assists was Sloman, Cafaro, Harless, Noble, and Kendra Minghella.

Sydney MacPherson had five saves in goal.

In other recent action, the Rams beat Innovation Academy by a 5-0 score.

Scoring for Shawsheen was Sloman, Noble, Gillis and Weatherbee.

The Rams lost difficult non-league games, but played well.

Shawsheen lost 2-0 to Bedford, 1-0 to Lynn Classical and 4-3 to Dracut of the Merrimack Valley Conference.

Against the Middies, Cafaro scored twice and Harless had one tally.

On Saturday the team played a great game against D2 Dracut. We did lose 4-3 but the team played really well. The halftime score might have been, 3-1.

BOYS SOCCER BEATS LYNN TECH

In action last week, the Shawsheen Tech boys soccer team won and lost, topping Lynn Tech by a 4-1 score and falling to Tyngsborough, 3-0.

Playing well for Shawsheen against Tyngsborough was sophomore Aidan Boutot, sophomore John Galicia, sophomore Joe Mytych, junior Dom DiCenso and seniors Nick Palmerino and Jason Spaniol.

Senior Jack Bourque's hat trick was the highlight of the Rams 4-1 victory over Lynn Tech.

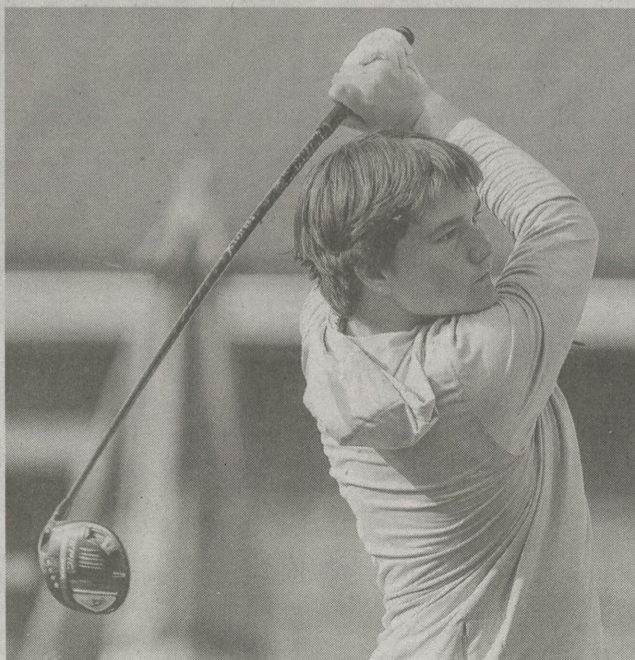

Senior Ethan Melanson had an assist on all three of the goals.

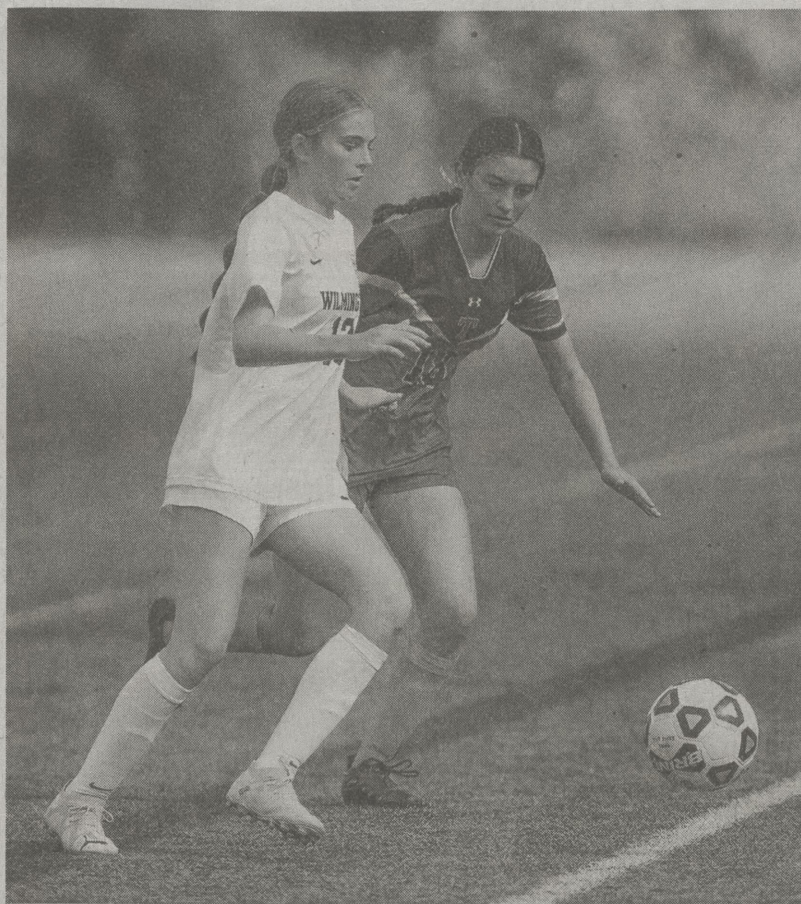

Senior Jayden Perez provided the icing on the cake, scoring the fourth goal after a tremendous throw in from senior Jayson Dube.

Senior goalie Kaleb Molina was brilliant in net earning the victory.

Also playing well for the Rams were senior Layne Coutu, senior Shaun Duhamel and senior Ollie Ferrer.

Wilmington Roundup:

WHS girls soccer blanks Reading

MacDonald's two strikes lead Wildcats past Rockets

By DOUG HASTINGS

sports@yourtowncrier.com

The Wilmington High girls soccer team improved to 4-4-3 on the season with a 2-0 win over Reading on Monday in Reading.

After a scoreless first half, the first goal came in the third minute mark of the second half when Avery King was able to find Cate MacDonald off of a corner kick. MacDonald was able to hit one around the goalkeeper.

The second goal came from MacDonald when she found herself alone against the last defender. After eluding the defender, MacDonald engaged the goalkeeper and placed a ball around her and into the net.

Also playing well for the Wildcats was goalie Jillian Weinstein, who made incredible saves in net to keep the sheet clean.

Last week, Belmont, the 17th ranked team in Div. 1, traveled to Wilmington for an evening game and the match ended in a 0-0 tie.

Also last week, Wilmington lost to Tewksbury by a 1-0 score.

CROSS COUNTRY

The Wilmington High boys and girls cross country teams competed in a home meet against powerful Melrose teams on Tuesday, Oct. 1.

The boys fell by a score of 15-46 as Melrose was able to take the top six spots against the Wildcats. Despite the loss, many of the runners set personal bests for the WHS course.

Wilmington had seven runners in the top 15, five of them setting personal records.

Gavin Dong was seventh with a PR of 17:09.8, Dean Ciampa was eighth in 17:18.9, David Dynan was ninth with a PR of 17:35.2, Cooper Holleran placed 10th in a PR of 17:43, Spencer Bagtaz ended up 13th in a PR of 18:21.1, Jake Cronin took 14th in 18:24.9 and Evan Cummings came in 15th, setting a new personal best with a 18:37.3.

The boys record fell to 1-3 overall and 1-2 in the Freedom Division.

The girls were also against a tough Melrose team and we were also without its top runner, who was sick. The girls fell by a score of 19-41 and every Wilmington girl ran a personal best for the course.

The top six Wildcat finishers included Charlotte Kiley, who was second in 19:57.9, Kaitlyn Shackelford, who ended up seventh in 22:04.1 and Bella Zaya was also in the top 10, taking ninth in 22:57.8.

Cayley Israelson was 11th in 23:39.1, Katelyn LaPointe placed 12th in 23:50.0 and Rebecca Hughes came home 15th in 24:16.9.

The girls record fell to 2-2 overall and 2-1 in the Freedom Division.

FIELD HOCKEY

Molly Lovell scored to give the Wilmington High field hockey team a 1-0 lead, but the Wildcats eventually dropped a 2-1 decision against Tewksbury on Friday afternoon at TMHS.

The young Wildcats fell to 0-11-1 on the season.

Also last week, Wilmington lost to Bedford by a 7-0 score.

After a Tuesday visit to Reading, WHS plays Stoneham at home on Thursday at 5:30 p.m.

BOYS SOCCER

The Wilmington High boys soccer team continues to learn on the job.

In recent, the Wildcats suffered 4-0 setbacks to Belmont and Reading. WHS played Reading at home on Monday night.

The 'Cats are 0-12 as the home stretch of the season approaches.

Wilmington faced Stoneham on Wednesday and hosts Watertown on Monday at 2 p.m.
